Compiled and Published by order of the Imperial War Graves Commission, London. 1929.

THE LAND IN BELGIUM OCCUPIED AS BRITISH WAR CEMETERIES OR GRAVES HAS BEEN GENEROUSLY CONCEDED IN PERPETUITY BY THE BELGIAN PEOPLE UNDER AN AGREEMENT MADE AT LE HAVRE ON AUGUST 9TH, 1917.

These particulars have been compiled from information furnished by the Record Offices and the next-of-kin. In all cases the relatives have been asked to furnish the personal information they wish to appear in the Register and where possible this has been given in their actual words.

The number of the Plot is indicated by a Roman numeral following the entry, the Row by a capital letter and the Grave by a number. Thus II. B. 28, indicates Plot II, Row B, Grave 28. In the Registers of Cemeteries that are not divided into Plots the Row is indicated by a capital letter following the entry and the grave by a number. Thus D. 12, indicates Row D, Grave 12.

Special Memorials to officers and men known or believed to be buried in the cemetery are indicated by the letters " Sp. Mem." following the entry, and by a number showing the position in the group. Thus " Sp. Mem. 2 " indicates Special Memorial, Number 2.

Other Special Memorials to officers and men whose graves have been lost are indicated by the name of the place of burial followed by a number : thus " Kerkhove Chyd., Mem. 5 " indicates the fifth name on the Kerkhove Chyd. Memorial Stones.

Bedford House Cemetery Enclosure No. 4 contains graves in which more than one soldier is buried and on which more than one headstone is erected. As each of these graves has a single grave number it follows that the numbering of a grave given in the register will in some cases not correspond with the number of the headstone as determined by counting from the beginning of the Row. Visitors should therefore examine the whole row if they do not at once find the grave in which they are interested.

BEDFORD HOUSE CEMETERY, ZILLEBEKE, ENCLOSURE No. 3.

CEMETERY INDEX NUMBER B. 166.

BEDFORD HOUSE CEMETERY, ZILLEBEKE, ENCLOSURE No. 4.

CEMETERY INDEX NUMBER B. 167.

ZILLEBEKE is a village and commune in the Province of West Flanders, South-East of the town of Ypres. The village and most of the commune were in British hands during the greater part of the War; but the number of cemeteries in the neighbourhood bears witness to the fierce fighting of which it was the scene, even under conditions of trench warfare, from 1914 to 1918.

"Bedford House", and sometimes "Woodcote House", were the names given by the Army to the Château Rosendal, on the East side of the Ypres–Lille road, 2,000 yards South of the Lille Gate of Ypres. It was a country house in a small wooded park, with moats. It never fell into enemy hands, but the house and the trees were gradually destroyed by shell fire. It was used by Field Ambulances, and as the Headquarters of Brigades and other fighting units; and charcoal pits were started in October, 1917.

The property became, in time, largely covered by small cemeteries. Five "Enclosures" existed at the date of the Armistice; but the graves from No. 1 were then removed to White House Cemetery, St. Jean, and those from No. 5 to Aeroplane Cemetery, Ypres.

Enclosures 2, 3, and 4 cover an area of 25,764 square yards. They are bounded on the North by a moat and on the other sides by a rubble wall. They are approached by an avenue of limes, and they are planted with limes, flowering chestnuts and other trees.

ENCLOSURE No. 2 was begun in December, 1915, and used until October, 1918; and after the Armistice 437 graves were added, all but four of which came from the Ecole de Bienfaisance and Asylum British Cemeteries, both at Ypres. It now contains the graves of 672 soldiers and one Royal Marine gunner from the United Kingdom; 22 Australian soldiers, 21 Canadian, five New Zealand and five of the British West Indies Regiment; and one German flying officer. The unnamed graves are 33 in number, and special memorials are erected (in No. 4) to 24 United Kingdom soldiers and one Australian, known or believed to be buried among them. Other special memorials (in No. 2) record the names of two United Kingdom soldiers, buried in the two cemeteries at Ypres, whose graves were destroyed by shell fire.

ENCLOSURE No. 3, the smallest, was used from February, 1915, to December, 1916; the burials in August–October, 1915, were largely carried out by the 17th Division. It contains the graves of 55 soldiers from the United Kingdom (of whom 22 belonged to the 7th East Yorks) and five from Canada; that of one Belgian soldier who died in March, 1915, has been removed.

ENCLOSURE No. 4, the largest, was used from June, 1916, to February, 1918, largely by the 47th (London) Division; and after the Armistice it was enlarged by the concentration of 3,324 graves from other burial grounds and from the battlefields of the Ypres Salient. It contains the graves of 3,188 soldiers, sailors (of the Royal Naval Division) and airmen from the United Kingdom; 309 Canadian soldiers, 179 Australian, 25 New Zealand, 20 Indian, 17 South African, three of the Royal Guernsey Light Infantry, one of the British West Indies Regiment and two whose unit in our forces is not known; one Russian of the Labour Corps and one German soldier. The unnamed British and Indian graves number 2,478, or almost two-thirds of the whole; and special memorials are erected to 20 soldiers from the United Kingdom known or believed to be buried among them. Other special memorials record the names of 25 soldiers from the United Kingdom, buried in other cemeteries, whose graves could not be found.

Certain graves in Plots VII, VIII and XV, identified collectively but not individually, are marked by headstones superscribed: "Buried near this spot."

The Registers record particulars of 726 War Graves in Enclosure No. 2, 60 in No. 3, 3,745 in No. 4, and 27 commemorated in No. 2 and No. 4.

Of the burial grounds from which British graves were concentrated to Bedford House :

The ASYLUM BRITISH CEMETERY, YPRES, was established in the grounds of a mental hospital (the Hospice du Sacré Cœur) a little West of the railway station, between the Poperinghe road and the railway. It was used by Field Ambulances and fighting units from February, 1915, to November, 1917, and it contained the graves of 265 soldiers from the United Kingdom, nine from Canada, seven from Australia and two of the British West Indies Regiment.

BOESINGHE FRENCH CEMETERY No. 2, a little South of Bard Cottage, contained the grave of one soldier from the United Kingdom.

DROOGENBROODHOEK GERMAN CEMETERY, MOORSLEDE, contained the graves of two United Kingdom soldiers who fell in October, 1914.

ECOLE DE BIENFAISANCE CEMETERY, YPRES, was on the North side of the Poperinghe road, immediately West of the railway, in the grounds of a school (now rebuilt). It was used by Field Ambulances in 1915–1917, and it contained the graves of 133 soldiers from the United Kingdom, three from Canada, three from Australia and one of the British West Indies Regiment.

KERKHOVE CHURCHYARD contained the graves of five United Kingdom soldiers, who fell in October and November, 1918, and seven German.

POELCAPELLE GERMAN CEMETERY No. 4, between Langemarck and the Poelcapelle–St. Julien road, contained the graves of 52 soldiers from the United Kingdom who fell in 1914 and 1916.

ZONNEBEKE BRITISH CEMETERIES No. 1 and No. 3 were on the South and North sides respectively of the Broodseinde–Zonnebeke road. Zonnebeke was occupied by the Germans on the 22nd October, 1914, retaken by the French on the following day, and evacuated at the beginning of May, 1915; retaken by British troops on the 26th September, 1917; evacuated again in April, 1918; and retaken by Belgian troops on the 28th September, 1918. Four British Cemeteries were made by the Germans on the Broodseinde–Zonnebeke road; No. 1 contained the graves of 31 United Kingdom soldiers (mainly 2nd East Surrey) who fell in April, 1915, and No. 3 those of 69 who fell in April, and May, 1915.

HALLOWES, 2nd Lt. Rupert Price, V.C., M.C. 4th Bn. Middlesex Regt. 30th Sept., 1915. Age 34. Son of F. B. and Mary Ann Taylor Hallowes, of Dan-y-Ffynnon, Port Talbot, Glam. An extract from the "London Gazette", No. 29371, dated 16th Nov., 1915, records the following:—"For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty during the fighting at Hooge between 25th September and 1st October, 1915. Second Lieutenant Hallowes displayed throughout these days the greatest bravery and untiring energy, and set a magnificent example to his men during four heavy and prolonged bombardments. On more than one occasion he climbed up on the parapet, utterly regardless of danger, in order to put fresh heart into his men. He made daring reconnaissances of the German positions in our lines. When the supply of bombs was running short he went back under very heavy shell fire and brought up a fresh supply. Even after he was mortally wounded he continued to cheer those around him and to inspire them with fresh courage." XIV. B. 36.
